Kelowna Packers handed sixth straight loss as Vernon Canadians win 6-3

(Special to The Courier)

VERNON—Kelowna Packers suffered their sixth straight setback at the hands of the Vernon Canadians last night when they dropped a 6-3 decision.

The win, Canadians' fifth straight over Kelowna, moved the Canucks back into a second place tie with Kamloops Elks. The Shibley-coached team has dropped 11 of its last 13 games, and continues to occupy cellar position.

However, Packers will have an opportunity to grab four desperately-needed points this week-end. Tomorrow night they meet Penticton V's at the Peach City, and on Saturday night they will host the Allan Cup Champions at the Kelowna and District Memorial Arena. Game time Saturday night is 9:00 o'clock.

In last night's encounter, Sherman Blair completed his hat trick with 21 seconds left in the game.

Vernon outscored their rivals two goals to one in each period to accomplish the fairly easy victory, although Packers drew to within one goal midway through the final period and were pressing for the equalizer when Canadians wrapped it up in the final four minutes.

Vernon outshot Packers 38-15. The turning point in the game could have easily come midway in the third period. Packer goalie Bob Lalonde and McLeod were exchanging blows when Kirk grabbed changing blows when Kirk grabbed a loose puck and scored. The goal was disallowed after Referee Bill Neilson and Arnold Smith went into a huddle. It was claimed the whistle was blown before Kirk scored, and the puck was taken back to the Packer end for a face-off.

At the 16:22 mark McLeod scored on a pass from Roche and King to salt the game away. With 21 seconds left to play, Blair clamped the lid on tighter by slipping an easy one by Lalonde.

Odie Lowe and Merv Bidoski got the other Vernon goals, while Jim Middleton, Dave Wall and Don Culley registered for Kelowna.

SUMMARY
First period—1, Vernon, Blair (King) 5:04; 2, Kelowna, Middleton (Booth, Kaiser) 14:17; 3, Vernon, Blair (King, Roche) 17:21. Penalties: Wall.
Second period—4, Vernon, Bidoski (Lowe, Davison) 5:32; 5, Vernon, Lowe (Bidoski, Davison) 7:55; 6, Kelowna, Wall (Kaiser) 17:52. Penalties: Harms.
Third period—7, Kelowna, Culley

Gets two goals

High scorer in Tuesday night's hockey game in Memorial Arena was Bill Swarbrick of Kelowna Packers. Swarbrick garnered both Packers goals as they went down 5-2 to Kamloops Elks. The high-flying forward will be in action Saturday night when Kelowna tangles with league-leading Penticton Vees in the local arena. Game time is 9:00 p.m.

Kelowna stock car club plans annual meeting

First annual general meeting of Kelowna Stock Car Club is slated for Wednesday, at 7:30 p.m. in B.C. Tree Fruits board room.

A film of the 1953 Pan-American Road Race will be shown following the meeting.

What happened to . . . ?

Born in Prince Albert 42 years ago, Ken Stewart learned all his minor hockey in Edmonton. After a few years in junior ranks in Edmonton, he stepped into senior class in 1931, first with Edmonton Superiors and later with Luscar Indians.

Lethbridge Maple Leafs then got hold of Ken and for the next five years—1936-1940—the name Stewart became a household word in Alberta's senior hockey circles. That was Ken's jumping off spot for the NHL.

After a year with Chicago Black Hawks on the forward line, he joined the Army and for three years coasted along the boards for Currie Barracks at Calgary.

GOES COACHING

Winter of 1945-46 saw him trying his hand at coaching the Regina Caps in the Western Canada League. That was the year Stewart grew a beard, vowing he wouldn't shave until his boys won a game.

Los Angeles Ramblers, the American team in the Western International League in 1946-47, were the next in line to get Stewart as coach. He played defence for Calgary Stampede in 1947-48.

He also coached Packers in 1948-1950 and the next season moved to Kamloops, where he has since been active in commercial hockey.

Ski trails

We have had our first real snowfall here in the valley, making winter seem close at hand. Now is the time to check over your equipment and make necessary replacements and repairs.

Skis that have been carefully stored away during the summer months may not require much attention. But if the old base on your skis is worn and chipped, scrape the surface well with a piece of glass and apply a fresh coat of plastic base.

This protects your skis and also provides a good running surface. A good waxing now with graphite or an all-purpose wax will prepare them for use at a minute's notice.

BUY QUALITY BOOTS

Boots are the most important part of any skier's gear and beginners should remember it is better to buy expensive boots and cheaper skis than to invest in laminated skis and boots of poor quality.

A boot with a steel shank and firm support around the ankle is recommended by skiing instructors Helen Ahrens. A strong cable harness is a wise investment in safety. If you are a beginner, don't buy expensive skis, but look for ones with steel edges. Climbing is made so much easier and less effort is required in making turns when there are steel edges on your skis.

Recommended length—Standing beside your skis you should just be able to reach the tips with the palm of your hand. When replacing broken poles or buying your first set,

Working out plays for an active week is the Kelowna Packers' line of Dave Wall (left), Bill Swarbrick (centre) and Norm Kirk (right). A warm A big question in the minds of cap, scarf, or hood to cover your ears is a necessity. Mitts with leather palms are much better for use on the tow-rope.

The initial outlay for equipment for skiing is a little higher than for most other sports, perhaps, but the reasonable club membership fee, the hours of healthful recreation and clean fun, and the lasting friendships acquired are a fair compensation for any amount of money spent for ski equipment.

Kelowna badminton players win top honors at Kamloops tourney

Ches Larson and Mary Stubbs, both of Kelowna Badminton Club, picked up honors in the Kamloops Mainline Badminton Tournament staged recently in Kamloops.

Larson defeated Chris Dalin, of Canoe, 15-3 and 15-5 to top the men's singles event.

Mary Stubbs and Larson teamed up for the mixed doubles, winning 15-8 and 17-5 over Yvonne Walters, of Kamloops, and Chris Dalin, Canoe.

Kamloops shuttle players walked off with the lion's share of first places as they won seven of the 10 events.

Two Vernon players suspended

Two suspensions to two members of Vernon Canadians' hockey club have resulted from their exhibitions of "poor ethics" in their encounter with Penticton V's in the Peach City Tuesday night.

OSAHU president Bill Spear yesterday handed coach George Agar a two-game suspension for "indifference on the ice and the use of profane language to referee Blair Peters." Trainer Reg Betts received a four-game suspension for "going on the ice during the game and using profanity at Blair Peters."

Agar is reported to have refused to get Frank King from the players' box after the latter was given a penalty. "He was definitely ridiculing the referee," stated Bill Spear.

The Vernon coach is said to have then ordered the trainer on the ice to pick up a cushion that had been tossed on the ice by a fan. "This," Spear said this morning, "is positively against the rules."

Agar will be out for one more game—tomorrow night's fixture with Kamloops Elks in the mainline city—and the trainer will be absent from the next three, both being out of last night's game in Vernon which the northern squad won 6-3 over Kelowna Packers.

It is reported, Vernon protested last night's tilt and the one against Penticton Tuesday night, but nothing definite has been established.

Survey reveals

Fluorine has helped Brantford children

(Editor's note: This is the second of a series of three articles written by Dr. D. A. Clarke, medical health officer, at the request of this newspaper, on the subject of fluoridation. The third article will appear on Monday.)

INTRODUCTION
Brantford is a small Canadian city of 36,000 people located on the Grand River in south-western Ontario. For over a generation the appalling amount of dental decay among its 5,000 school children has been a major concern of local health authorities and community leaders.

In 1942, Dr. W. L. Hutton, medical health officer for Brant County, led the health and civic authorities of Brantford to consider the problem of dental decay and fluoride deficiency. They studied carefully reports from various parts of the world dealing with the beneficial effects of the public drinking water containing an adequate amount of fluoride (one part per million). At that time all such public drinking supplies—there are many in Canada and the United States of America—obtained their fluoride by passing through underground deposits of fluoride compounds.

Following nearly three years of careful study and discussion, Brantford, in June 1945, became the first Canadian city and the third city in the world to correct its fluoride deficiency through the mechanical fluoridation of its domestic water supply. On the advice of the dental faculty of the University of Toronto and the National Research Council of Canada, Brantford invited the federal health department to carry out a scientific controlled study of the dental effects of fluoridation on the Brantford children.

THE STUDY
Total of 1,500 Brantford children between the ages of six and 14 years of age were observed carefully for dental decay by a department dentist. Field tests were carried out in 1948, 1951, 1953, 1954 and the data on these children who consumed fluoridated water since 1945 was carefully recorded.

THE FINDINGS
1. Review of the study data shows a significant and progressive reduction in the dental decay experience of Brantford children, at all age groups from year to year since 1945.

The reduction in dental decay during this eight-year period is as follows:

Age (6 to 8 years) 69% reduction in decay.

Age (9 to 11 years) 44% reduction in decay.

Age (12 to 14 years) 28% reduction in decay.

This study has revealed no evidence of a dental or medical nature which would contra-indicate the fluoridation of a public water supply to a level similar to that in Brantford.

3. Fluoridation is a simple public works procedure costing 20 cents per capita per year.

CONCLUSIONS
This study shows that fluoridation effectively reduces dental decay by two-thirds in children who have consumed adequate fluoride since birth. It enables Canadians to see the possibility of providing adequate dental care for all Canadian children.

Letters to the Editor

OPPOSED TO FLUORINE
The Editor,
Kelowna Courier.

Dear Sir—I have a great respect for you, as you are one of the few men who think inwardly.

The present agitation that is taking place about "fluorine" in the water being so beneficial, is greatly exaggerated, and is much too good to be true. If the great merits suggested were equal to the "drum thumping," then we would be living in a blessed state.

You would just open your mouth, drink and there you are, all set up until you repeat the dose.

They do not say just what effect "fluorine" is going to have when the water is mixed with our tea and coffee, or perhaps milk.

They don't dare say that it has no bad taste or smell and no effect on their food.

I have never heard of doctors advising parents in the past to put "fluorine" in the water for children, or putting it in the food. Or putting it in the candy and sweets.

"Fluorine" must have some effect on the body system, apart from the teeth. I have never heard of doctors advising to take "fluorine" for the body system.

Some years ago I was visiting at Trail, and went through the Trail smelter with one of their parties, and they were using "fluorine" in the vats as an acid to assist the electrolyte in making lead anodes.

Probably a new occupation may be created in supplying ordinary water.

AGAINST FLUORINE.

OPPOSED TO FLUORINE

The Editor,
Kelowna Courier.

Dear Sir—I wish to thank you for being able to bring this matter of "fluorine" before the citizens of Kelowna.

When I study all the complaints and articles about "fluorine," I think the old prairie farmer's article was not so weak as Mr. Alcock said, after all.

According to the latest census taken by the United States government, there was an average rate of 882 deaths from heart disease in Newburgh, N.Y. (fluoridated 1945) out of a population of 400,000, in contrast to 507 for the national average. This information should bring the fluoridation issue to a halt over the whole continent.

Why did Dr. S. A. McGregor say sodium fluoride was safe for it has been used for 100 years, when experiments with it in the drinking of water began in 1945?

Why do dentists prefer to take the opinion of the head of the department of preventive medicine in Texas University, rather than that of Dr. Alfred Taylor, the research scientist with 18 years experience in experiments with rats, et cetera?

This proof, for my part, so very strong, and we should throw out this "fluorine."

Solution on green peach under study

PENTICTON—Delivery of too-green peaches on the market was basis of a resolution passed at the annual meeting of Pentiction local of the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association Monday night.

The association asked B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. to find a system of marketing whereby semi-ripe peaches would go unwrapped to the closer markets without going over present peelinghouse graders.

Defeated was a resolution requesting that committee work be consolidated by smaller groups to avoid overlapping.

Another motion called for adoption of a universal color chart for fruit as a part of standard operation throughout the industry.

POLICY CRITICIZED

Some criticism was levelled at the policy of the maturing committee, which, it was charged, sets up a standard impossible for the grower to maintain when weather conditions are abnormal.

"Maturity should be based on what the fruit is, not what we think it should be," one grower declared.

A. R. Garrish agreed that the problem is one not easily solved. "Color no longer seems to be clear indication," he said. "Peaches for example, can appear green and yet be quite ripe inside."

MARKET REVIEW

A. G. Desbrisay, president of B.C. Fruit Processors Ltd., said the plant is still processing to capacity up to 24,000 boxes of apples daily and that the yield of juice per ton is at an all-time high.

Sales were good, he continued, amounting to $325,000 in October and 97 carloads of juice were shipped during the first three weeks in November.

Reviewing market conditions, F. W. Laird, board of governors, said cherries amounted to about two-thirds of last year. Consumer reception for apricots has been good, peaches were about half crop, severe splitting occurred in pines. A larger market has been found for examples in the United States and pears were good. Apple movement was not quite equal to last year, he said.

New bridge will save Indians long trek

KEREMEOS—As much as 40 miles will be saved by Indians residing across the Similkameen River from Keremecos and Cawston when the long awaited bridge crossing the river at the site of the original Armstrong ferry is completed.

Realization of a dream of many years is being realized in the hitherto undisturbed quiet of the lower Similkameen as echoes of the busy pounding of a pile driver and other machinery of interior contractors, of Pentiction, ring out in the course of the bridge's construction.

The bridge will cross at a point just above what is known as Armstrong Ford, near the site of Chopa railway station, where Lester City was railway agent and Willard Grube filled the post of customs officers, in years gone by.

The ford, for many years the only means of crossing the river on the Canadian side, has not been navigable for some time and the only means of transportation for Indian residents living on the other side of the river has been via Nighthawk bridge, a round-about way of almost 40 miles. Indians are delighted with the promise of easier access to schools and business districts of Cawston and Keremecos.

Annual Christmas bazaar held by Anglican church huge success

St. Michael and All Angels' Church annual bazaar which took place recently in the parish hall, proved a social and financial success.

The home cooking stall, presided over by Mrs. B. M. Newsom and Mrs. Maude Rosby, and the home made candy stall, run by the Harmony Circle, were as usual most popular.

The Parish Guild provided the novelty, handkerchief, fancywork, knitting, and apron stalls, and the plants and flowers mostly grown by Mrs. A. Mephum and Mrs. S. Reed. The afternoon W.A. (Dorcas stall), the evening W.A. and the Glenmore Guild each furnished a stall displaying specimens of handicraft.

The men's stall, showing articles donated by men of the parish, was convened by Mrs. D. S. Catchpole. Their special stall of varieties was convened by Mrs. Bruce Deans. The Sunday School had its usual stall of notions and books.

Ladies of the afternoon W.A. served tea and refreshments during the afternoon. Convener of the tea was Mrs. L. Richards.

Other entertainment included a fish pond for the children, convened by Mrs. C. E. Munslow, a fortune teller run by Mrs. Gardner and a variety of guessing competitions.

Government asked to wipe out skeeters

At the request of the City of Revelstoke, the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association has called on the provincial government to conduct an all-out warfare against mosquitoes in unorganized territory.

Revelstoke told OVMA in a letter that its efforts to cope with mosquitoes within the city limits were being negated because the insects bred in huge numbers in the surrounding rural areas.

Anti-mosquito fog spraying operations were continued throughout the summer in the mainline city, with-out any marked success.

Kelowna was one of the first municipalities in B.C. to adopt a mosquito control campaign.

Right hand turn against red light working well, says RCMP officer

The new turn-on-the-red traffic system appears to be working out very satisfactorily, according to RCMP Constable R. J. Ivens, who has been on special detail this week checking the operation of the system.

He told The Courier today that in his opinion the new system is working well. He had seen no interference with pedestrians and reported that comment from the man on the street was most favorable.

Constable Ivens did say that he had noticed that some drivers were afraid to move when they were able to do so. He pointed out that a motorist approaching a red light and desiring to turn right should be in the right-hand lane and if the red light is against him should come to a full stop at the intersection.

Then—provided there are no pedestrians on the crosswalk—he may proceed with his right-hand turn even against the green light. The same applies to a driver desiring to turn right off a red light.

The police officer also stated that he had seen no attempt to turn right from the left-hand lane.

Generally speaking it is working well, he said. The drivers are being careful in how they use the new turn but this will rectify itself as they become accustomed to doing something they have never been able to do before.

"The only danger," Constable Ivens said, "is that we may get some fool driver who will try to turn right when there are pedestrians on the crosswalk."

He left no doubt that such people would receive the full displeasure of the law.

Accidental death verdict returned at local inquest

Lawrence Downer, 19, of Vernon, met his death by accidental means in a motor car accident last Sunday, half a mile south of Winfield, a coroner's jury decided Tuesday morning. Inquest was presided over by Coroner Dr. J. A. Urquhart.

Accident occurred at approximately 1.30 p.m. Two passengers in the car which Downer was driving were slightly injured and taken to Kelowna General hospital for treatment and later released. The two were Allen Treherne and Allan Grant, both 17 and also of Vernon.

Ken Shepherd testified that he was called to the scene of the accident by an RCMP constable to take photographs. Mr. Shepherd produced these pictures for the jury.

RCMP Constable D. A. Harvey investigated for the police. On reaching the sight of the accident, Constable Harvey said he found the body of the deceased with a blanket covering him and blood over the roadway.

He also stated the car which Downer was driving was mostly damaged on the left hand side. Reconstructing the accident, Constable Harvey said that Downer must have been thrown out of the driver's seat when the car rolled over the second time. The vehicle did not land on the body, the Constable said. Downer was thrown clear.

RCMP Constable D. B. Williams testified he was the first officer at the scene of the accident. When he arrived he found one youth lying at the side of the road while two others, later identified as Treherne and Grant, were in a dazed and shocked condition.

Allan Treherne took the stand and told the jury events leading up to the accident. Treherne said that Grant and Downer had left Vernon earlier Sunday on their way to Kelowna for a drive.

Grant, who was the owner of the car, was driving the vehicle on leaving Vernon but let Downer take over on reaching Winfield. "We were travelling between 50 and 60 miles per hour and a red truck passed us. We caught up to the truck on a flat stretch of road and started to pass."

"The truck suddenly moved out to pass a small English car and we headed on the opposite side of the road. After that it wasn't too clear as all I could see was the road coming up and hitting my head on the roof," said Treherne.

NO DRIVERS LICENCE
Treherne said he was on the right hand side of the car and the deceased was between him and the deceased. Treherne said he was not aware the deceased did not have a driver's licence.

Grant testified the movements of the three youths up until the time of the accident. "

Final touches being given Little Theatre's production "Night Must Fall" to be presented here December 6-7

"Night Must Fall," Kelowna Little Theatre's second production of the season, is being given its final touches of polish by its professional director Phoebe Smith, as the production dates draw near. At 8.15 p.m. on December 6 and 7, the curtain at the Empress Theatre will rise on what KLT members hope to be their best production to date.

Dagney MacGregor, playing the part of Olivia Grayne in "Night Must Fall," is doing her third major role for the KLT. Her first was in

DAGNEY MACGREGOR

"Ah, Wilderness" and her second was in "See How They Run," both produced last season. Miss MacGregor produced "The Twelve Pound Look," and will be assistant director for the fourth KLT production this year, "The Heiress."

"YARD" DETECTIVE
The Scotland Yard detective in "Night Must Fall" is Ray Davis, an actor who has literally dozens of roles to his credit. He has had three years' experience with the Salmon Arm Little Theatre, and 10 years with the Kamloops Little Theatre, where he was president for several seasons. One of his many roles was in the one-act play "The Valiant," which took second prize in the North Okanagan drama festival in Vernon. Not content with acting alone, Mr. Davis has successfully directed both one-act and three-act plays, and enjoys both acting and directing.

Another newcomer to the ranks of the KLT is George Segel, who has had considerable acting experience in eastern Canada. Mr. Segel, who plays the Lord Chief Justice in "Night Must Fall," has already taken part in a successful studio play "The Twelve Pound Look" this season.

productions. Mr. Aldred also directed "The Twelve Pound Look" for the Oyama group. In "Night Must Fall," he portrays Hubert Laurie, Olivia's suitor, whom she calls "an unmitigated bore."

Well-remembered for her delightful interpretation of the role of the servant in "See How They Run," Rose Odium needs no introduction to Kelowna audiences. Her work in "Fumed Oak" won for her best actress award in the 1951 drama festival, and last year she took part in KLT's Dominion Drama festival in Vernon.

Activity of the British Columbia section of the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society was discussed by the B.C. director, Dr. R. W. Lamont-Havers, at a general meeting of the Kelowna CARS group in the Health Centre Tuesday night.

THIRD MAID
Mabel Boyer plays the role of the timid little maid Dora in this current production. She first appeared in KLT's initial play, "The Man Who Came to Dinner," and later received honorable mention for her work in a festival production "Hello, Out There."

Suggests city lease land for hangars

Increased activity at Ellison Field where eleven planes are now based.

has prompted the acting airfield manager, Ralph Hermanson, to write city council suggesting that some arrangement for long term rental of land be arrived at in order that owners of planes may construct hangars.

Mr. Hermanson suggested that probably five private hangars would be erected if suitable arrangements could be made.

The matter was referred by council to the Kelowna Aviation Council.

Everything from soup to nuts

Retail merchants would be willing to sell beer and wine if that's what public wants

"Are you in favor of grocery stores selling beer and wine?" Within the next few weeks, British Columbians will be asked this question as part of the Retail Merchants' Association poll to ascertain their wishes.

If the "ayes" outweigh the "nays," grocer operators throughout the province may find themselves jostling the liquor stores for business.

A Courier survey among local food merchants finds them disposed to like the idea of selling the entire meal from soup to nuts—including the vino.

STRICTLY CASH!

Overvalley Ltd.—"If that's what the public wants," said manager Charles Perry, "that's what we'll give 'em." Mr. Perry was quick to add that beer and wine sales would have to be strictly for cash.

Capozzi Grocery—"Why not?" questioned the boss. Better to encourage the sale of wine and beer rather than spirits. Sure, a good idea.

Crossroad's Supplies—"Works all right across the line, why not here?"

With beer and wines more readily available, the owner thought that might be one way of cutting down on excessive drinking. "No credit buying though."

Super-Valu—Will wait and see what happens. No comment.

Safeway—"Our interest, our main objective, you might say, is food," asserted H. A. Ullrich, manager.

"However, that's no reason why we shouldn't sell beer and wines if that's what the public demands."

NO OBJECTIONS

Palace Meat Market—"There does not seem to be any harm in it—we've no objections."

Hardie's General Store—"The people are going to get it anyway so why not through a grocery?"

He could foresee no extraordinary difficulties involved and stands ready to meet the public demands.

G. Deachman, general manager of the Retail Merchants' Association, stated recently that if poll results were favorable, a petition would be sent to the provincial government early in the new year.

Irvin has lots to crow about

Montreal Coach Dick Irvin has something to crow about—besides his league-leading Canadiens. One of the 15 bantams he raises, this black coshlin rooster won first prize at the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto. Irvin, who took up the poultry and pigeon hobby at Winnipeg in 1906, has trained as many champion birds over the years as he has hockey players.

Gyros want manure, City receives apple wood or top soil

Manure, apple wood, top soil and such are being looked for by the Kelowna Gyros for their radio auction on Friday night over CKOV.

The Gyros have a fine list of articles to be auctioned but they would like a few items such as mentioned above and which have not been offered this year.

Articles of this type have proved to be extremely popular in the past and the Gyros are hoping that someone will come along with similar gifts for Boyce Gyro Park.

People who have such things are of course out of the Gyro range of contact. The people of the rural area who have such things to spare cannot be contacted for obvious reasons. So the Gyros, knowing that many hundreds of people from the rural area derive much pleasure from the Gyro Park each year, hope that some of them may like to say, "Thank you" through the gift of manure, top soil, apple wood, building or any one of a score of materials and services which the rural residents can provide.

Persons desiring to say thanks to the Gyros in this manner may call any Gyro or The Courier or Charles DeMara Insurance office. If it is impossible to contact any of these before broadcast time Friday night, just call the auction number and tell the boys there. They'll be very, very happy to acknowledge your gift.

City council on Monday night officially approved a petition for the construction under the local improvement bylaw of a sidewalk and curb on the north side of Leon Avenue between Richter and Ebbel streets. The petition was carried the signatures of the required percentage of affected property holders.

The public works department was instructed to include the construction in its plans.

District Kiwanians hold parley

More than 60 members of the Pacific Northwest District of Kiwanis International met in Kelowna last Sunday for their annual Fall organizational meeting. Members came from Okanagan, Okan, Twisp, Winthrop, Republic, Oroville, Tonasket, Penticton, Summerland, Kelowna, Vernon, Kamloops and Prince George. Two members from Williams Lake were turned back because of snow conditions.

Kelowna president Ev Greenaway chaired the conference and called upon Lieut.-Gov. Bob Johnston to introduce the 1955 Lt.-Gov. elect Dr. Chuck Benson, of Okanagan, Washington.

Tom Jenner of Vernon spoke on the duties of a club president; Lloyd Busby, of Okanagan, took up the work of secretaries and treasurers; past Lt.-Gov. Jack Towgood, of Summerland, dealt with the work of committees; past Lt.-Gov. Jack Young, of Penticton, outlined the duties of the board of directors; and past Lt.-Gov. Joe Allen, of Twisp, spoke on fellowship and inter-club relations.

Building of new clubs was the theme of Jim Finucan, of Kam-loops, who referred to the achievement by the Kamloops club in organizing clubs at Williams Lake and Prince George.

New traffic regulations in effect

Despite the fact that the new turn-right-on-the-red traffic regulations were not to go into effect until Tuesday, Alderman J. Treadgold told city council on Monday night that the new regulation was being freely used on Monday.

The traffic officer reported to him that it seemed to be working well and that in his opinion would prove to be satisfactory.

The new regulation is for a trial period only. It permits a right-hand turn against the red light provided a full stop is made first. Pedestrians, of course, have the right of way and motorists proceed at their own risk.

Why is it so much easier to get up at four a.m. to go shooting than to feed the baby?

State building. This many cars will burn over five BILLION gallons of gasoline while covering 670 BILLION vehicle-miles each year. There will be more than 18 million flat tires each year and almost that many dead batteries. These staggering figures point to the necessity of extensive planning for modern highways and the speeding up of construction because good roads are vital to automobile transportation and it is its turn to serve our modern way of life.

Canadian culture important asset

MONTREAL (CP)—Canadian author Helen Gifford, left staking all her hopes for this country's future on all wells and mining developments, Canada, she says, must keep its eyes on cultural developments as well. In cultural matters, "possibilities are unlimited."

"After the ravages of two world wars and the depression we now are facing, a more active interest in the arts, but we will have a long way to go—we are nowhere near the Utopian state," she says. Miss Gifford, whose book "Counter-Attack" has been published in Paris in French, is a great admirer of the French-Canadian way of life. They "created a culture out of a wilderness" by retaining their language, enriched not only Canadian culture but the English language as well.

New Brunswick starts on huge power scheme

Construction of the Beechwood dam is the first step in a vast $300,000 plan to harness the St. John River and add 374,000 hydro-electric horsepower to the power grid of New Brunswick. The Beechwood project, a $45,000,000 outlay, has already started. Proposed generating stations at Morrill and Hawkshaw; already developed are dams at Tobique and Grand Falls. And from the international section of the river, an additional 342 horsepower may be derived by dams at Rankin, Fish River and Castle Hill to supply the U.S. side of the border. Base metal discoveries in the province have made New Brunswick hungry for hydro power and authorities foresee the day when the "little TVA" of the St. John river will provide low-cost power for homes of the province and at tract new industries. Total potential in the St. John river area is estimated at 720,000 horsepower, sufficient to the province for all its requirements in the foreseeable future.

centres of balls use ground filberts or almonds or a mixture of ground dates, candied cherries, and nuts. Add enough of the meringue to hold the nut mixture together. Roll into tiny balls and dip each ball into the meringue. Place on baking sheet and bake in a very slow oven 250° F. for 30 minutes. Then turn heat off and leave in oven until perfectly dry. During baking, open oven occasionally to make sure that the Meringue Balls are not browning.

SHORTBREAD
1 cup butter
1 cup sifted all-purpose (bread) flour
Cream butter very well until pale yellow in color. Add sugar gradually and beat until fluffy. Reserve 1/4 cup flour for flouring the board during kneading. Add remaining two cups flour to butter and sugar mixture, one-half cup at a time. Mix well after each addition. Turn dough out on to floured board and gradually knead in remaining flour. Divide dough into two parts and knead each one about five minutes or until all cracks in the dough have disappeared. Chill in refrigerator until stiffened, 15 to 20 minutes. Roll out each piece of dough separately to a thickness of 1/4 inch. Cut into diamonds, one inch in diameter or into other fancy shapes. Be sure to cut right through the dough to the board. Place pieces of shortbread on an ungreased baking sheet about one-half inch apart. Bake in a slow oven 300° F. 25 to 30 minutes or until slightly golden. Makes about 30 shortbread.

Civic leaders agree on longer walk to school

SUMMERLAND—A directive from the government urging reduction in transportation for students sparked a lively discussion of modern attitudes at a meeting of the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association last week and resulted in approval for the theory that pupils should be asked to walk long distances to and from school.

A move by the Municipality of Summerland to provide more transportation by asking the government to reconsider, found little support and the district's resolution was withdrawn.

The Summerland resolution alleged that the government's directive seemed unreasonable. It said that making children walk the specified distances on modern high speed highways was a dangerous practice and that school boards would not wish to accept responsibility for the risk involved. It noted that in some districts pupils live in isolated areas where wild life and weather conditions make walking distances a decided risk.

The resolution also said the topography in some districts added to the distance and greatly increased the time and energy spent for students to get to and from school.

FROUD OF PROGRESS
"This directive, if it goes into effect, means that children 2½ and three miles from school will have to walk each way," explained Reeve E. Atkinson of Summerland, "and that is certainly far under the present circumstances."

Summerland, he said, was the first district in the province to have a central school and bus system "and we have always been proud of the progress made. This is going back to the status of 25 or 30 years ago."

Councillor John (Paddy) Hill of Coldstream said his early days spent in Ireland "make me wonder what the youth of today is coming to."

"We fill them up at home," he said, "take them to school in a bus and we have to go to school somehow. That's what the gymnasium is for in the Vernon school."

He thought that with the standard of education being given to youngsters today, "they should at least walk a mile to school."

Councillor Hill said he didn't think there was any more wild life abroad in B.C. today than in any other day, "except in the beer parlors." Admittedly, however, weather conditions were becoming wilder.

Returning to the defense of his resolution, Reeve Atkinson said: "The cost of transportation I will admit is high. But in our case it is a relatively small percentage of the whole cost and the government could study ways of helping us that would do us a lot of good."

He noted that the cost of picking up the school transportation and inflicting the results on kids who will have to walk two or three miles.

"If a student is taking advantage of the various facilities offered in high school, he is a poor economy to have the kids walking six miles a day just to save a few thousand dollars when you consider what percentage it is of the total school expenditure."

Mayor J. J. Ladd of Kelowna was one of many speakers who thought a blanket resolution such as Summerland had suggested would be a wrong move.

keep thinking that when the snow comes along the whole business will be covered over anyway. Necessary raking is bad enough, but unnecessary raking in my book is unpardonable.

Which is all rather foolish of me because we never will, seldom—have snow here at this time of the year. Why I used to boast to my eastern friends that I was here ten years before I shovelled snow. And it was true, so help me. Of course, I never told them that during the ten years I had swept snow. Nor did I tell them that one or two of the years I was in the east, but had I been here I certainly would have had to shovel.

But it is still a fact that as a rule we do not get much snow here until Christmas Eve or after. And I have always thought that this must make it rather awkward in the business of Christmas gifts. In the east you just couldn't go wrong giving a youngster a sleigh for Christmas or a pair of toboggans. But not here. If you give a five-year-old a sleigh the poor nipper might not be able to make any use of it until he was old enough to vote. And for a healthy youngster there can't be anything more frustrating than a Christmas sled with no snow to try it on. I suppose that other than the B.C. coast there are fewer sleds sold per capita in the Okanagan than any other place in Canada.

The way the weather is now, you stand just about as much chance of pleasing the toddlers if you give them bathing costumes, sun glasses, gardening sets and umbrellas on Christmas morn.

All of which can be very disheartening in a country which has always boasted about its white Christmas, even if it did have to apologize now and then for its late springs and early winters.

The trouble is that every time a person does a little morning about the lack of snow this time of the year, he knows deep in his bones that one of these days the weather is going to get colder and before the tulips bloom he'll be cursing himself for ever having mentioned the words cold and snow. One of these days he's going to go skidding and wallowing up his back legs with a foot or two of the white stuff and recall with shame his eagerness of a few weeks ago.

But I suppose that's a human weakness, to mourn the lack of snow and cold weather when we don't have them. There are some, of course, who wouldn't care if we never had any snow. They like things just the way they are.

This being a free country, every man is allowed to indulge in his own tastes if he wants to. And there's little doubt that snow looks much nicer than it really is. In other words, from the warmth of your own living room with a brisk fire crackling in the hearth, the snow outside can look very attractive indeed. On the other hand, if you're out there shovelling, you'll find snow can easily have a definite lack of appeal.

But the merchants will tell you that Christmas shopping never gets under way full blast until the snow starts to fly. Then every one gets into the Christmas mood at the same time and descends upon the stores in a thundering herd.

The business of putting up Christmas decorations looks downright silly when we are going around without toboggans. Holy wreaths and warm underwear may go well together in Florida, but in Canada they conflict something awful.

And as far as I am concerned, the weather can't start making like winter any old day. Let the temperature hang low and the goose hang high. Let the snow come in with the glory. Or with the blizzard. After all we've nothing to lose but our tempers, our summer underwear and maybe our way home if the snowfall is heavy enough.

At least that is the way I feel this November 30th.

Liar that I am.
(Notice how cleverly I got the date in there. That is just a bit of protection in case the weatherman—a most unreliable fellow, indeed—

White House reception for Vernon man

Reading "This day in history" on this page, I notice that it was December 4, 1788 that Pitt introduced the income tax to Britain.

This brings to mind that there is little if anything new in the tax field, Canadian taxpayers may find it difficult to believe that the federal government, the provinces (yes, even B.C.) and the municipalities likely wouldn't have much difficulty in agreeing on an equitable distribution of Canada's tax fields if there were more of them. There just aren't enough major tax fields to go around, say the experts, though, goodness knows, there seem to be enough of them. Or, at least, those that there are seem to take a very, very healthy chunk of one's income. The scarcity of tax fields has forced the sharing of individual fields and this, in turn, has led to trouble.

Actually most of the big revenue-producing tax fields now in use governments haven't turned up much in the way of new ones in decades. That doesn't mean they haven't been trying.

Take, for example, the income tax, usually regarded as one of the streamlined variety. As noted above, Pitt introduced it in England in 1788. But this mighty engine of the modern welfare state was already centuries old then. The first income tax levied dates back to the reign of Richard I in the latter part of the Twelfth Century. It will be recalled that that wretched monarch was captured and was reduced to pay a heavy ransom to secure his freedom. The first income tax did the trick. The rate was 10 percent of the taxable net goods of every person in the realm.

In Canada, the Dominion did not take the income tax plunge until 1917. But several of the provinces had already tried to tap it. British Columbia, always first with an eye to the tax dollar, pioneered it in 1910. Yet, in 1978, indirect taxation, used with industry and enthusiasm by every Canadian government since Confederation, is new. But only relatively. It wasn't known in England until the middle of the Seventeenth Century when the Long Parliament borrowed from the Dutch a system of excise taxes. This new kind of disguised tax proved extremely popular since the people who paid it didn't realize that they had, unless they were reminded. And this the Long Parliament and its successors were careful not to do.

Nurse and teacher ends long service
TIMMINS, Ont. (CP)—Mary Labine has finished more than 25 years of service as a nurse in St. Mary's hospital maternity ward here.

Supervisor of the ward for most since it was built, she has assisted in the births of more than 20,000 babies. During her years at the hospital Nurse Labine also instructed hundreds of student nurses.

She will leave the Purcups area to visit relatives and take a rest. "I do not want to be said that I am retiring," she told friends at a testimonial dinner held here.

Miss Labine was born in Pembroke and trained at the Providence Hospital in Haldenbury.

White House reception for Vernon man

VERNON—A brief reception in the White House by the President of the United States, General Dwight D. Eisenhower, was a highlight of the recent meetings in Washington of the directors of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce who conferred with their American counterparts.

No less than four prominent British Columbians were included in the Canadian delegation, which was addressed briefly by the President. They were Harold J. Fosbrooke, vice-president of the B.C. Chamber of Commerce and B.C. director on the Canadian Chamber of Commerce; R. F. Raikes, provincial vice-president of the Canadian chamber; Howard Walters, second vice-president of the B.C. chamber, and Howard Mitchell, a past Canadian director, who addressed the gathering on Canada's natural resources.

Mr. Fosbrooke reported on his return to Vernon from the Washington conference that President Eisenhower seemed to be in excellent health, much better than some of who met him for being members of his recent pictures would indicate. An organization which takes steps to see that its viewpoint is placed before government.

Facts about water intake bylaw

The following report was tabled at city council regarding the proposed $200,000 water intake bylaw which ratepayers will vote on at next week's civic election. The report is self-explanatory, and is as follows:

Proposed relocation of the Kelowna domestic water intake pipe to a water location has been necessitated by changing environmental conditions in a growing community. The inability, in recent years to provide a satisfactory standard bacteriological quality of water, even although chlorinated has rated the supply, by national health officials, as unacceptable for use by inter-provincial transportation systems (CPR and CNR).

If water is unacceptable for use by other people then it is rather logical to assume that Kelowna should consider the citizens' welfare in this regard. The local health services has, for the last three years, been cognizant of the situation and the city council and city engineer have been advised of studies carried out of the bacteriological quality of the lake water in conjunction with a sanitary survey of conditions considered responsible for contributing to the build-up of contamination.

In order to try and curtail expenses it was decided at first that possibly a 300-foot extension of the present pipe might solve the problem rather than carry out a complete movement of the pumping system to the Poplar Point site.

However, bacteriological sampling of the water at 70-foot depths indicated only a very slight improvement over the present site. In samples collected over a year-long period. Other samples collected at the same time at the Poplar Point site revealed a greatly improved quality and which, in some samples, showed even coliform-free reports.

An examination of the sanitary survey revealed ample reasons for such a difference and a definite course of action became increasingly apparent as each of the contributing conditions was considered in relation to the amount of contamination and the fact that many of these conditions would not improve but could deteriorate further in the future.

1. The proximity of the location of Mill Creek is one of the major factors of contamination and several points were felt to be of some concern in this regard. The foremost of these is the fact that it was found that water from Mill Creek was observed to drift around into the bay area and was especially noticeable during freshets, creating considerable turbidity up as far as Manhattan Point. The waters of Mill Creek normally carry heavy amounts of farm drainage from the Ellison, Rutland, and Benvoulin areas. In itself, this is not a desirable condition and uncontrollable. However, a further dangerous aspect exists in the use of Mill Creek as an emergency sewage outlet when power or mechanical failures make it necessary to provide a receiving body of water for the city sewage. This situation, if repeated in the past and could occur at any time in the future. Raw sewage emptying into the lake and drifting into the bay area is a threat to the water users regardless of chlorination as it is well known that chlorine is ineffective in destruction of the polio virus. In addition, chlorination is only as good as the human element operating the equipment in the protection of the public against other intestinal diseases.

2. Swimming in the area of the Aquatic Club is a factor to be considered although possibly of an unassessable nature.

3. Washing down of ferries at dock after sheep crossings leaves contamination in an area close to the intake pipe.

4. Four storm drains emptying into the bay area in a perimeter surrounding the intake pipe constitute a contributing factor of contamination. Some of these drains, besides serving city streets for runoff of rain and snow water, serve business establishments to carry off trade wastes from butcher shops, a creamery and other business premises which are not permitted to connect up to the city sewer lines. Some of these lines become quite foul at times and tests show heavy contamination of the effluent.

5. The establishment and growth of the Kelowna Yacht Club and city wharf is also a factor adding to contamination. Considerable churning up of water in the area plus discarding of contaminating material in the lake water is taking place and will continue to grow worse as the boating popularity grows. Dredging of the area recently disturbed the silt in the lake bottom and resulting turbidity caused excessive loads on the chlorinator to the extent that the contamination could not be controlled and entered the city mains.

6. Tugboats, located adjacent to the present intake pipe discharge waste waters and contaminating materials into the lake without treatment.

7. Trade waste from Rowell's and Canadian Canners is also discharged into the lake in close proximity to the city water intake pipe.

Not only is the trade waste contributing to the bacteriological contamination but also the solids and suspended solids reduce the oxygen content of the lake water in the area making it difficult for natural purification of other existing contamination in the water.

8. The discharge of Brant's Creek adjacent to the CNR wharf is a further source of contamination of the lake water. Again as previously mentioned in Mill Creek, another sewer blowoff is located for emergency purposes when mechanical failure of the sewer pumps at the Manhattan pumping station arises. The potential danger to the domestic water supply has already been discussed in this regard. In addition drainage from the Glenmore area and trade waste from the fruit processing plants add to the load in this creek. It may be of interest to know that organic matter at the present sources of supply has increased from twelve parts per million in 1949 to 64 P.P.M. in 1953.

9. The conditions created by the sawmill operation deplete the oxygen content of the water as well as increase the bacterial contamination.

10. The lowering of the lake level will increase the density of contamination in the bay area and the factor of dilution will be slightly less.

Most of the above conditions have been discussed with officials of the three levels of government and representatives of industry. While some improvement may eventually evolve it is not practical to assume that satisfactory control will be instituted due to factors such as noted above regarding sewage emergencies which will occur regardless of extensive precautions taken to ensure otherwise.

The proposed site will provide water that is almost free from contamination and suspended organic matter. This will mean a lower chlorine demand and a reduction of the chlorinous taste in the water. One of the causes of the objectionable taste of the present water supply is the combination of the chlorine with organic matter content made up of various constituents from sources previously outlined. The greatest benefit of all, however is the protection that will be afforded to the health of the community which factor cannot be measured by a dollar and cents value but only by statistics in the absence of gastro-intestinal diseases and the happy knowledge that we are providing a water supply that is safe for our children, ourselves and people who visit our city.

Called back for encores

Two Canadian artists present pleasing recital before enthusiastic audience at Kelowna Junior High School

Two young Canadian women gave a recital Monday evening in a crowded Junior High School auditorium. Eileen Graham, pianist, and Patricia Rundle, dramatic soprano, gave a two-and-a-half hour program and were enthusiastically called back for two encores each.

Given in aid of the library building now being constructed in Kelowna, the concert was sponsored by the Friends of the Library. Miss Graham is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Graham, of East Kelowna, while Miss Rundle, born in England, is from Vancouver. Miss Graham opened the program with Haydn's Variations in F Minor, then accompanied Miss Rundle in Caccini's Amarilli, Pergolesi's bright Se Tu, M. A. M. Respighi's Nobile, the aria Come Scoglio Imola from Mozart's opera "Così fan Tutte," and Ah! Lo So from his famous opera The Magic Flute.

Schubert's Sonata in B Flat preceded the intermission.

POETIC SONGS

The young soprano returned to sing five of Brahms' poetic songs, Minnelied, Therese, Liebestreu, Der Jäger and Von Ewigem Liebe. Then Miss Graham concluded her solo work with Debussy's delicate Pagodas, two Chopin Etudes and a familiar Chopin Waltz, No. 18. Concluding the recital, Miss Rundle sang Go Not Happy Day by Frank Bridges, Diaphana by Moore, and Roger Quilter's vivid Love's Philosophy.

Both young artists were presented with charming bouquets. Miss Graham began her musical career in Kelowna, studying for 10 years with Mrs. Emily Pritchard. When 18 she received an Associated Board Scholarship at the Royal Academy of England, and has studied there for five years. Miss Rundle was awarded a similar scholarship to the Royal Academy in the same year as Miss Graham. On January 8 the pair will present the same program at the Arts Centre in Victoria, and at the end of that month Miss Graham will return to Kelowna.

Kelowna girl helps operate radar system

(Special to The Courier)

OTTAWA—Carrying out one of the most vital defence jobs in Canada, the most advanced radar system in operation and maintain the RCAF's early warning radar system. One of these is Leading Airwoman Donna M. Schreder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Schreder, 743 Wilson Avenue, Kelowna.

Donna was born in Unity, Saskatchewan, in January 1939, and was educated at the Kelowna Junior and Senior High schools prior to joining the RCAF in January 1960.

Stationed at one of the RCAF's radar units "somewhere in Canada," LAW Schreder received her training at RCAF Station Clinton, Ont., where she learned the fundamentals of radar before being transferred to her present unit. She now is carrying out an important defence role as a flight control operator, the RCAF has announced.

As a flight control operator, LAW Schreder's duties include operating the radar scopes, which detect aircraft flying within a specified area. Information thus obtained is transferred to a plotting table and the location of the aircraft ascertained. If it cannot be identified as a "known" or "friendly" aircraft, RCAF jet fighters are scrambled to intercept the "unknown."

During her off hours, Donna finds many other things to do. In her spare time, Donna is a member of the Kelowna Junior High School and is active in the school's drama and sports activities.

Elks work around Packer defence

Crowd of 908 disappointed hockey fans took in the game and saw Packers lose 5-2 after leading 2-0 early in the second canto.

Ho hum—we lose again

Packers blow two-goal lead as Elks win by 5-2 score

Kelowna Packers blew a two-goal lead and let Kamloops Elks rack up five unanswered executions in the second stanza of Tuesday night's hockey game before 908 disappointed hockey fans in Memorial Arena. The 5-2 defeat was Kelowna's fifth straight as they continue to dwell in the Okanagan Senior Hockey League cellar.

The crowd, which was the smallest of the season, witnessed a clean match with plenty of spark in the initial canto, but also saw Packers out-skated, out-checked and completely baffled in the last two periods.

Line of Swarbrick, Wall and Kirk was the only trio to click for locals. Swarbrick notched both tallies for Kelowna, with Wall in on the pair and Kirk helping a single.

Kelowna took a 1-0 lead at 3.34, its puck and Rodzinyak turning the first period with Swarbrick aside nine for northerners. scoring on a slick three-way effort. Wall went in the Kamloops goal started by Wall and Kirk. Kirk at 4.02, drew Rodzinyak to the garnered the puck in a scramble be- right and slipped the puck to Swar- hind the Kamloops cage and passed brick, who had no trouble planting it to Wall who in turn rifled the rubber to Swarbrick in front of goalie Rodzinyak for the final flip.

Packers did everything but score at the six-minute mark as they flooded visitors' goal with shots and near-goals. They constantly drew Rodzinyak from the goalmouth and missed the wide-open net.

One minute later Lucchini pulled Lalonde from Kelowna's goal and also missed the yawning cage.

FIRST PENALTY

Kerr of Kamloops received the first penalty of the encounter at 19.58 on a delayed call for slashing Dawes, who stopped him with a clean check as the former was crossing Packers' blue line on a potential scoring play.

Superb goal tending was turned in by both net minders in the first 20 minutes, with Lalonde stopping

Veas fatten OSHL lead by 7-4 win

PENTICTON—Vernon Canadians and Penticton V's put on another rousing display of crowd-pleasing hockey here Tuesday night, with V's collecting their twelfth straight victory on home ice this season, a hard-fought bruising, fairly ragged 7-4 decision in favor of the Allan Cup Champions.

In chalking up the win Bill Warwick fattened his scoring lead with five big points, followed closely by Grant Warwick and Jack McDonald, each garnering four points. Harms tallied twice for the losers, and played a standout game throughout.

Though there were two fights in the game, and a bookfull of penalties dished out by a harassed Blair Peters, the game was highlighted by a circus-like display of game delaying by Vernon's coach George Agar.

Besides disputing an insignificant point, Agar followed Peters around the rink for ten minutes, waving his arms and even ordered his water boy onto the ice to retrieve a flung cushion.

First period belonged to Vernon, territorially, and the Canucks went ahead 2-1. In the middle frame the visitors' defence fell to pieces and the V's pumped in four unanswered goals. Each scored twice in the last period.

A game misconduct was meted out to colorful Frank King at the end of the first period, which cut down the losers' power considerably. King disapproved of a rough check by Conway and slashed at him with his stick, precipitating fistfights between the two big men. King got a minor and a major for his act of sparring, but left the sin bin to protest the call and was sent to the showers by Peters.

Marketing expert claims farm produce far from expensive

OTTAWA—Approximately 60 per cent of the total imports of fresh fruits and vegetables enter Canada completely free of duty, L. R. Stephens, chairman of the tariff committee, B.C. Fruit Growers' Association, said here recently.

This intense competition was one reason why the price of Canadian fruits and vegetables was so low, he added.

In Ottawa to attend a meeting of the Canadian Horticultural Council, Mr. Stephens declared that the Canadian housewife had at her disposal the widest assortment of fruits and vegetables in her history.

Not only is the variety greater, he declared, but the fruits and vegetables are being presented in a much more attractive and fresher form.

PRICES LOWER

Based on purchasing power, he stated, most fresh fruits and vegetables are actually cheaper today in most cases than they were in 1939. For example, using the average hourly rate in the Toronto area as a "norm," the consumer is able to purchase 11 pounds of onions today for an hour's work as against nine pounds in 1939; 12 pounds of apples against 10; 6.5 pounds of celery hearts against 4.2; 29 pounds cabbage against 18; five pounds No. 1 field tomatoes against 3 1/2; and 25 pounds potatoes against 23.

The changes which have taken place in the food industry, even in the past 15 years, are remarkable, Mr. Stephens said.

"Housewives today are demanding fruits and vegetables be made available in small quantities and in packaged form—with a resultant limited waste in preparation," he noted.

The demand for quality plus packaging, however, results in greater cost to the consumer because of the much greater costs of handling, increased transportation rates, labor and other charges, he declared.

"If the housewife wants to buy the same type of container and the same quality she bought 15 or 20 years ago, she can purchase her fruits and vegetables at a price relatively less than she paid then," Mr. Stephens said.

Stressing the fact that, contrary to some opinion, the Canadian consumer is getting farm produce at a low price, Mr. Stephens disclosed that, compared to 1924 the consumer can buy per hour of work 37 pounds of potatoes as against 20; 32 pounds of beef as against 2.8; two pounds of pork against 1.6; 2.5 pounds butter against 1.1 and 7.3 pounds milk as against 3.8.

Appear in "Ice Fantasy of '55"

Shown preparing for one of their performances are a few of the girls featured in the all-new third annual edition of "Canadian Ice Fantasy of '55" which is coming to Kelowna December 8. A matinee for the children will be staged at 2:30 p.m., with the evening show scheduled for 8:30.

Referendum and bylaw are two separate issues

Alderman Dick Parkinson emphasized at council meeting last week that the $200,000 water intake bylaw and the fluoridation referendum are two separate bills and should not be confused by ratepayers when they vote at next month's civic election.

Mr. Parkinson made the comment after council was informed that several people will speak at service club meetings and to other groups urging support of both the bylaw and referendum.

City Council has also gone on record urging an affirmative vote.

The $200,000 water intake bylaw will cover the cost of a new domestic intake pipe at Poplar Point, pump station, etc. Health authorities have recommended moving the intake pipe due to contamination of water at the present location.

The referendum will ask ratepayers if they are in favor of fluoridation of domestic water supplies.

Victoria okays application for additional water

City Council was informed by the water rights branch of the provincial government that it will cost $1200 for the right to pump an additional six million gallons of water per day from Lake Okanagan.

Some time ago the city asked

Victoria for permission to pump an additional amount of water in view of the fact it is planning to construct a new water intake system at Poplar Point. The $200,000 bylaw goes before ratepayers at next month's civic election.

Water rights branch has okayed the application.

Objections must be filed at Victoria within 30 days after official notification has appeared in The Courier.

City Engineer George Meckling estimated the city will sell 100,000 gallons of water a day to people living outside the city.

B.C. Junior Red Cross delegate gives talk on trip to Sweden

RUTLAND—The first dinner meeting of the season was held by the Rutland Board of Trade in the high school cafeteria.

The hunting season and other conflicting interests cut down the attendance somewhat, but those attending heard a very interesting talk by Dick Bury on his trip to Sweden last summer, as the B.C. representative of the Junior Red Cross.

The site of the international gathering was in surroundings very similar to parts of Canada, he said, with lakes and forests and hills all around. The language difficulty was soon overcome, but in one instance the Canadians and Americans made the mistake of not taking this matter into consideration. This was in the final day's displays and demonstrations, when the different nationalities put on various turns. The American and Canadian groups chose to give a "panel discussion" on Red Cross work, which fell very flat as compared to the practical displays of Junior Red Cross work put on by others.

The speaker told also of the tours through Scandinavian countries, Great Britain and other countries staged for the benefit of the Junior Red Cross groups, and of the interesting times on ship, train and plane going to and from the destination.

The local Board of Trade had given Dick a photograph album as a going away present, and he brought it to the meeting, filled with pictures and mementos of his interesting experiences while overseas. This was passed around for the members to see.

Principal D. H. Campbell introduced the speaker, while R. C. Lucas extended a hearty vote of thanks to him at the close of his talk, on behalf of the board members.

A business session followed, with reports from various committee heads. Under new business the meeting passed a resolution urging the establishment of a new rural mail route to cover the Rutland district, to start from the Rutland post office and be known as R.R. No. 1.

Rutland, in the event that the present heavy R.R. No. 2 Kelowna route should be altered to give a fifth rural route in the Kelowna district. A second resolution protested against a Penticton proposal to spend several hundred thousands of dollars of public works funds on the proposed Penticton-Carmi road, and expressed the view that this of South Okanagan Health Unit money would be spent on improving the present Rutland to Rock Creek road.

After the business session films were shown by Bernice Heitzman, President C. D. Buckland has called an executive meeting of the board for Wednesday, December 15 next, at which plans for the annual meeting will be made.

Residents of the district were saddened to learn of the sudden passing of a former Rutland citizen, Mrs. Arthur Cross, and their sympathy is extended to the bereaved family.

Many friends of Mrs. Ron Marsh attended a farewell party for her at the home of Mrs. Harvey Nairne, in Ellsford, on Monday evening and presentations were made of an electric kettle and a cup and saucer to Mrs. Marsh, who is leaving shortly to reside at Kitimat, B.C. Games and contests followed, after which refreshments were served by the hostess.

The Women's Federation of the United Church held a very successful bazaar in the church basement on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 24, with a number of other church groups, including the CGIT, and AOTS also having stalls. Afternoon teas were served and home cooking and handwork sold.

Bert Chichester has been visiting relatives and friends in the Kootenay district for the past two weeks.

E. C. Hunter and his son Roy are on a hunting trip in the north.

Health board favors fluoridation

Union Board of Health of South Okanagan Health Unit has unanimously gone on record favoring fluoridation of domestic water supplies.

A resolution to this effect was passed at the quarterly meeting of the health board held in Oliver last week.

The resolution was as follows: The dental health of the children and adults of South Okanagan Health Unit area is reported to be poor; all studies reported to this board concerning the controlled fluoridation of communal water supplies are markedly beneficial in improving the overall dental health of the children; all accredited reports of relevant studies demonstrate that no ill effects are attributed to controlled fluoridation and that it is a safe public health procedure.

The resolution passed was "in the interest of the citizens of the South Okanagan Health Unit area, that communities with a communal water supply consider the adoption of controlled fluoridation."

The week at Ottawa

Specialty Written for The Courier
 By DON PEACOCK

Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA — Prime Minister St. Laurent will be called into session Friday, Jan. 7, and in doing so, he dropped a hint that the government is interested in getting down to legislative business right away.

Mr. St. Laurent made clear that the House is expected to clean up on opening day two of the speech-making formalities that in recent years have taken up a second day. This may set the tone for a session that has been called "later than usual, but in which the government looks for fast ratification on at least one of its legislative proposals — improved unemployment insurance amendments to take hold during the winter season.

To help clear the way, it has been decided that the moving and seconding speeches in the Commons, in reply to the throne speech will be given on the opening day. It has been the recent practice to put these off until the day after the opening, leaving the first day devoted largely to ceremonial and the reading of throne speech sketching the government's legislative program.

Just how effective will be moves to speed up legislation in the early days of the session is problematic. The throne speech debate could ramble for weeks. But agreement among the parties could lighten it up.

In any case the government has concluded that parliamentary business can be wound up in less time than the near-record 139-day sitting of the 22nd Parliament's first session, which opened Nov. 12, 1953, and ended last June 28. That sitting hadn't been exceeded in length since 1903.

RAIL CONTRACT AWARD

The federal government's arbitrator in the railway-union contract dispute has awarded non-operating employees an estimated $7,000,000 a year in fringe benefits and simultaneously recommended a federal subsidy for the companies.

The subsidies suggestion by Chief Justice Gordon Sloan of British Columbia brought mixed union reaction and defence of the rates from two western provincial authorities.

Mr. Justice Sloan gave the unions a $7,000,000 fraction of the fringe benefits they had sought under threat of a strike. Finding railway finances on the decline, he recommended at the same time an unspecified federal subsidy as compensation for the low level of the Crown's "Net Pass" rates under which the railways transport grain and grain products in the West.

Premier Campbell of Manitoba said there should be no subsidy to the railways until they have "abundantly established" that their revenues are not meeting expenditures. He said the West will fight to the finish to maintain the grain rates.

Agriculture Minister Halmrast of Alberta said the grain rates are "fair and should be adhered to" but establishing rates was entirely "a matter for the railways and the federal government."

MAYORS URGE JOBLESS HELP

Canadian mayors have told the cabinet that "abnormal unemployment" exists in some areas and urged that the federal government do something about it. A day earlier the Canadian Chamber of Commerce reminded the government that it feels Canada needs more immigrants and also recommended no let-up in defence expenditures, since this is necessary to assure continuing peace.

The mayors disclaimed ability of the municipalities to pay for assistance to the unemployed and charged the government with the duty of providing such assistance. The Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities in its annual brief to cabinet, recommended this four-point program designed to check spreading unemployment and give relief to the unemployed:

1. A federal-provincial-municipal program of publicly-financed undertakings, especially in the most depressed areas;
2. Transfer of unemployed persons from "economically distressed" areas to localities where jobs are in greater supply;
3. Extended coverage of the Unemployment Insurance Act to cover classes of workers not included;
4. Federal assistance payments to unemployed persons who have exhausted their unemployment insurance benefits or are not eligible to receive benefits.

In connection with the mayors' third point, it was understood that one major reason for stepping up Parliament's opening-day formalities was the government's anxiety to get action early on legislation to amend the Unemployment Insurance Act so that unemployed can get improved insurance benefits during the cold weather period.

WOULD BOOST BENEFITS

Prospective amendments to the act, it is reported, include boosting the rate of benefits payments to unemployed who have been in the higher-pay brackets, and lengthening the minimum period of payments.

The Chamber of Commerce in its cabinet brief observed that seasonal unemployment is becoming increasingly serious and urged the government to move quickly with remedial measures. It also urged that immigration be stepped up to provide Canada with a population of 30,000,000 by 1975—double Canada's current total.

The chamber said the "greatest danger for 20th-Century Canadians is a tendency to believe that defence spending should be a temporary rather than a permanent part of life. Communist aggression could be resisted only by Western powers regarding reasonable defence expenditures as essential over the long-term future.

The bureau of statistics estimated 178,000 persons were without jobs and looking for work at Oct. 23, compared with 167,000 a month earlier and 111,000 a year previous.

The labor department reported 250,270 persons were looking for work through National Employment Service offices at Oct. 21, up 15,733 from a month earlier and 67,324 from a year earlier.

Oyama PTA plans Christmas party for children

OYAMA—The regular monthly meeting of the Oyama Parent-Teachers Association was held in the school with a good attendance.

H. Thomson was in the chair, with A. S. Matheson present as guest speaker.

The main items of business handled were the card party on December 3 in the Oyama school and the Christmas party which will be held in the Oyama Community Hall on December 18. The proceeds of the card party will go towards the purchasing of gifts for the Oyama pre-school and school children and the district will be canvassed by members with tickets during the coming week.

Mr. Matheson spoke of the report cards and the methods of marking them, as compared to the methods used in years gone by. Following Mr. Matheson's remarks the meeting discussed a series of resolutions submitted by the Parent-Teachers Federation dealing with the report card system. It was the general opinion of the meeting that the present system of report cards served its purpose better than those previously in use.

Refreshments were served in the school lunch room following the meeting.

Christmas cactus should show signs of blooming

Normally the best place to garden in December is in the greenhouse. Those without a greenhouse might prefer to dream about the garden with their feet up in front of the fireplace. But there is still time for those who are a little behind with their gardening to mound the roses, plant their spring bulbs, and to protect the tender shrubs with burlap.

The time is appropriate for a look at the Christmas Cactus. If your cactus is showing signs of blooming by now, you have probably not done the right things to it. This plant thrives on rough treatment, but still there are a few things that should be done for its proper care. It should be re-potted every 3 or 4 years in a good John Innes Potting Mix. It should be put outside, in a shady location every June for a well-deserved rest. It should be watered sparingly during the summer. The plant should not make growth during this rest period. If it does, there will be few blooms during the winter.

The cactus should be taken into the house before the first frost in September and placed in a room where the daytime temperature is about 65-70 degrees F., and the nighttime temperature ten degrees cooler. The first flower buds should appear early in November—and if they do, relax—your Christmas Cactus will bloom on time. While the plant is in the house, don't over or under-water. Over-watering often causes buds to drop.

Propagation of the Christmas Cactus is carried out by rooted cuttings, seedling or grafting. Any good plant propagation book will describe the details.

Fashions

Black, drapable black wool broad cloth is used for a handsome long jacket suit, worn with a low-necked blouse for smart afternoon or informal theatre wear. The draped neckline is caught into three-button tabs and the very low-placed pockets serve to accentuate the long slim look, of which the slim skirt is a part.

Space or Atomic-Age Man?

NO GLIMPSE into the future is this picture. It is of a present-day worker in atomic research and production plants in Britain. The plastic clothing filled with compressed air protects against the deadly radioactive dust and particles. British industrial use of the atom includes an atomic energy power station soon to be in operation.

Ellison ladies honor couple

ELLISON—Fifteen ladies were present at a farewell party for Mrs. R. Marsh, of Rutland, held at the home of Mrs. H. Nairne last Monday night. Games were played during the evening and delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

A presentation was made to Mrs. Marsh from the assembled ladies. Mr. and Mrs. Marsh leave early in December to make their home in Kitimat.

Mrs. E. Monford is spending a week at Nelson visiting her sister, Mrs. C. Shaylor.

Gerald, Geef, Ken, and Bruce Clement left for Kamloops over the weekend where they will enter their steers in the Christmas Fat Stock Show, being held there this week.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—
 Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or antiseptics of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution, "Alredy, Mo-Dyne, Inc. in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body."

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation II. The price is only $1.10 a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation II—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly.

Oyama jottings B.C. merchants condemn Christmas gift discounts given to school teachers

OYAMA—R. M. Tucker left on Wednesday for a visit to his relatives in Ireland. Enroute he will visit his son and daughter-in-law, FO and Mrs. D. F. McCall and family, of Fortale la Prairie; flying by TCA from Winnipeg to Ireland. Mr. Tucker will return home in March.

Mr. and Mrs. P. K. Wynne, accompanied by their daughter, Miss Barbara Wynne, left on Sunday for Vancouver where Miss Wynne will enter the Vancouver General Hospital where she will train as a laboratory technician.

(By Canadian Press)

British Columbia merchants, seeking to safeguard high-volume Christmas sales, have condemned as unethical a plan that would give special discounts to school teachers.

The protest followed the issuing by the B.C. Teachers Federation Co-operative Association of a Christmas catalogue making available to its members merchandise at a discount from the prevailing retail rate.

Opposition to the plan is led by the Kamloops Board of Trade which criticized the association's action on the grounds it "undermines free enterprise."

Association officials say the practice is "perfectly legal and ethical" and add that the merchants' criticism is unfounded.

Only last month businessmen's organizations in several B.C. centres voiced opposition to plans by the province's civil servants association to seek special discounts for government employees.

COMPETE WITH RETAILERS

Grant Deachman, general manager of the B.C. division of the Retail Merchants Association of Canada, said the teachers' co-op plan would mean teachers were competing with retailers, who as taxpayers pay their wages.

"If they are teachers let them stick to being teachers," said Mr. Deachman, whose organization has received protests against discount buying and selling from many of its members throughout B.C.

Mr. Deachman says the RMA is writing business and merchant groups urging them to organize protests in an effort to halt the practice.

Mr. Deachman said there is nothing illegal about discount selling or buying, provided the merchandise adheres to licensing rules.

"But we're concerned about it because we believe it is not ethical and makes for unfair competition," he said.

Robert R. Smith, president-manager of the Teachers Co-op, said the providing of merchandise to the organization's shareholders at cut rates was not the main function of the co-op, formed originally to help teachers build homes.

"In the last three years we have built more than $1,000,000 worth of homes for teachers in B.C. We put up $200 in new building for every $1 of merchandise we handle," Mr. Smith said.

He said the co-op was not in competition with the retailers, since its services are offered only to its 1,200 shareholders.

Suggest making Pentiction councillor thinks stewardship meetings are a waste of time, but other aldermen disagree and parley will be held PENTICTON — Alderman J. G. Harris thinks stewardship meetings are a waste of time. He said so in council meeting last week, but his colleagues did not share his views and in the "name of democracy" and a flurry of other clichés voted down the blunt-spoken alderman.

Discussion of the date of the annual stewardship meeting prompted Alderman Harris to kick over the traces for the second year running.

Along with ex-alderman W. D. Haddleton, Alderman Harris protested against the time wasted by stewardship meetings last year.

On Monday he argued that members of council, school board, and school trustees were often the majority attendance.

Alderman F. C. Christian boomed that he disagreed with Alderman Harris. "We live in a democracy," Alderman Christian said. "Any ratepayer has a right to ask questions. It is their inalienable right to have that opportunity—even if there is only a ratepayer in attendance at the meeting."

Alderman Christian, however, did agree with Alderman Harris in his criticism of the tedious reports submitted at stewardship meetings.

"Perhaps," suggested Alderman Christian, "instead of reviewing what we have done, of what has happened, we could report on what could happen."

MEETING WILL BE HELD

Mayor Oscar Matson was definitely against Alderman Christian. "I'd hate to see the meeting discontinued in my first year in office," he said.

"But," protested Alderman Harris, "people have the opportunity all year to ask questions to see what we are doing."

"It isn't the same," murmured His Worship and with Aldermen E. A. Titchmarsh, Wilson Hunt and H. M. Geddes in full agreement Alderman Harris was voted down.

Time and place of the stewardship meeting is to be announced later.

OKEANAGAN LAKE BRIDGE

The Editor,
The Kelowna Courier.
Dear Sir,—At last we know the latest news about our lake bridge. The news is that the government is keeping our bridge under its hat—presumably until election time. If our presumption is correct, we would like to point out to Mr. Bennett that his government would earn itself more respect and quite possibly, votes by getting busy on that bridge NOW!

SEPARATE SCHOOLS

The Editor,
Kelowna Courier.
Dear Sir,—After reading the Victoria Times Editorial on separate schools I felt it should be only fair to see the other side of the question.

The argument is "that denominational schools want a special service. For that service they are required to pay." This is not true as it is almost entirely a matter of philosophy and free enterprise. Our present school system is the nearest thing that one could get to socialism. By this I mean that the philosophy and administration of educational control is held by a very small group.

The "Philosophy 100," a prerequisite in teacher training at the University of British Columbia, gives us a good indication of this. A few lines from the text, "Types and Problems of Philosophy," by Hunter Mead: This from the introduction: "... while her parents, (Ruth) the pupil used in the example) "are aware of the fact that some knowledge of modern psychology and sociology, they have raised their daughter to accept standards of sex morality as strict and unchanging."

"But by the time Ruth has been on the campus for a semester or two she begins to realize that, although most of the girls were raised in a moral atmosphere similar to that prevailing in her home, some of them have departed from it in either theory or practice—or both. Furthermore at least a few of these girls are frank regarding their conduct, especially among intimates, and Ruth is surprised to see that none of their friends appear to think less of them for their behavior, since the 'emancipated' group includes several campus leaders. Most disturbing of all she notes that these girls seem quite happy and well-adjusted as any on the campus, and she has met several who as students had similar attitudes and who have gone into very satisfactory marriages."

"As Ruth is intelligent, she too attempts to think the matter through in a rational manner. An enlightened library policy permits access to reliable books. Time would not permit to give all the points of view found through this book. Fifth which no parent would approve of, if a sincere Christian in faith. Perhaps the height of ugliness of this course is demonstrated in the supplementary book "Man in the Modern World" by Julius Huxley from which I quote: (p. 140) "I do not believe in the existence of God or gods. The conception of divinity seems to me, though built up out of a number of real elements of experience, to be a false one, based on the quite unjustifiable postulate that there must be some more or less personal power in control of the world."

This again is only a small example of the type of thinking that has induced the none of the pupils. What a glorious indoctrination for the teachers of our children!

I am not criticizing the teachers. We have with us yet many teachers that are splendid Christians and uphold Christian tradition and philosophy as an excellent example to the community. But when these are gone...

It was in 1947 or thereabouts a teacher was severely criticized for mentioning to the children there is no God. Yet according to the school act he was within his rights then he who dares to teach a hymn or carol.

Many people advocate bible instruction in the school. This indeed would be excellent. One drawback however: How would we like it taught by an atheist?

What the Education Commission set out to do no commission could satisfactorily cope with if the answer was in human behavior. Of course finance is a different matter.

I bear no prejudices or ill will to anyone. The picture is only as I see it. A picture of free enterprise. A school, in a field, in which the group if large enough, may set itself apart as a separate school, and teach that philosophy which they consider TRUE.

Thanking you for your time and space.

Yours sincerely,
JOHN MAIER.

SEPARATE SCHOOL ISSUE

Cranbrook B.C.
November 25, 1954

The Editor,
The Kelowna Courier.

Dear Sir,—Your recent editorial copied from the Victoria Times called "B.C. and separate schools," is one that should not go unanswered. It contained arguments that are often heard, typical of which is the following, and I quote, "In short, denominational school adherents want a special service. For that service they are required to pay."

This argument reminds me of a story that I heard in Vancouver which goes like this. A man went to a restaurant where the customers were required to pay before entering. One customer, after paying for his meal, found that the only meat on the menu was roast beef. When he complained to the manager that he did not like roast beef and that he wanted roast pork, the manager was adamant. He explained that he had taken a poll of his customers and 85 percent of them wanted roast beef. If, said the manager, "you want roast pork, you will have to cook it yourself and you will have to pay for it!"

"But I have already paid for my dinner," protested the customer. "You want a special service," replied the manager, "and you must pay for it."

If this sounds like a silly story, a comparison will show that it is no sillier than the above quoted argument presented to the cabinet by a recent three-man delegation. The report of the Hope commission which studied the separate school question in Ontario, was quoted in part by the Times editorial. It is commonly known that this commission was made up of two biased groups, a large group that was against denominational schools and a smaller group that favored denominational schools. The end result could have been predicted before the investigation started, and that was that neither side would convince the other of anything and that the majority opinion would naturally be anti-denominational schools. There was in fact not one minority opinion in this report, but several, so that in reality no conclusion was reached at all. Proof of this fact is that the Ontario Government has not seen fit to implement any of the recommendations of the report even after ten years. This literally amounts to filling the report in a waste basket.

But why quote from a report on separate schools in Ontario? If you want to study the question in B.C., why not use a report that has been made on the situation in our own province? A very good study of the school question in B.C. has been made and by a person well qualified to do so, one of our former Ministers of Education, Mr. Harry Ferry. Mr. Ferry's work was commissioned by the government so it is more in the nature of a private study. It is a clear, concise work that cuts through all of the sentimental arguments pro and con, and since it is based on fact and logic he reaches what I believe to be the solution to the school question in B.C.

Yours truly,
R. dePuyffer.

FLUORINATION

The Editor,
The Kelowna Courier.

Dear Sir,—May I have a little space in your column to ask why some people are trying to force the fluoridation of the general public. Fluorine is a strong poison and may not agree with a lot of people, as stated by some medical authorities, as it is also chlorine, but there is a difference because chlorinated water is a public safety measure and deals with a number of germs, whereas fluorine deals with one condition only, and that very poorly, as figures show.

It is said to have little appreciable effect on full grown adult teeth, so that children are the only ones who should be treated. But we are told that the child population is perhaps half the entire population, and fluorine serves rates say it prevents 50 percent of tooth decay. Therefore the number of beneficiaries is perhaps one quarter of the population benefiting to the extent of partially eliminating one physical defect.

Since the liquid diet of most children is largely milk, how much more does that reduce the efficiency of this very doubtful plan?

One wonders just how far mass dosing can go. There are lots of human troubles and defects. Perhaps constipation is one of the most prevalent, but I do hope they won't start and eat out the water.

The point is—do we want mass dosing for any more troubles? The needed and approved public safety measure of chlorinating the water makes it hard for some people who cannot take chlorinating and must buy the water. If they wish to drink it, thereby dispelling some of the chlorine.

If one examines the figures of the fluorine scheme, it looks rather ridiculous, or is commercialism creeping in again?

A Vancouver newspaper this week-end had a whole column discussing private fluorine machines to be installed in the home. Well, perhaps that's a good idea, too.

Let those who wish, take fluorine, but let us keep our good old freedom and not forget the ones who don't want fluorine in their water, or perhaps have good teeth, or dentures, and there are a lot of them. Signed,

NEW CITIZEN.

FLUORINE IN WATER

The Editor,
Kelowna Courier.

Dear Sir,—Would you please let me use a little space in your valuable paper to express my opinion about Mr. Alcock's criticism of the article written by an old prairie farmer, on fluorine.

He says that his article is rather weak, but we thought it was rather strong. No doubt this does not please the fluorine producers or the drug stores, as it is better for them to throw that fluorine by the wayside in the water, than to sell it by tablets for the children's drinking water.

We have seen a few letters, similar to that of Mr. Alcock's in the newspapers before. But only after many complaints against the fluorine were expressed, and the argument got hotter. The rough guess of the cost of 15c or 20c a year per person is not much, but if it would cost around $1,500 as we are told, it would be much better to use that money on our streets every year. It seems to me it would be far more profitable than to throw that in the water to spoil our good drinking water and tea and coffee. As it is, a lot of people go out in the country to get their water to drink and make their tea and coffee.

It is a queer thing that some doctors recommend the fluorine, and some doctors condemn it, saying that we cannot tell what affect it might have on the bones and nerves.

We cannot blame the old folks, especially, who complain of the bad teeth caused by the fluorine, and some doctors condemn it, saying that we cannot tell what affect it might have on the bones and nerves.

In any case, we will have a vote on it, and we will have to stand by the majority, if it goes through. But we will have a truck and tank deliver some pure water in town.

HOPE FOR JUSTICE.

CHISHOLM'S ADDRESS
East Kelowna,
November 24, 1954.

The Editor,
Kelowna Courier.

Dear Sirs,—I was very gratified by the interest shown by your contributor, Mr. Beasley on the subject of Dr. Chisholm's address. I'm sorry if your contributor is upset and inclined to blame me as an upstart. I can only suggest that he does question himself, my own interest is almost wholly academic. Referring to your contributor's analogy to a medical doctor, it may be pointed out that many quacks in the past have diagnosed cancer for constipation in order to sell their own particular nostrum for remedy. In this case, the nostrum appears to be world government. The alternative, destruction by atom bomb. The latter may be far the most preferable, at least one can do nothing, as compared to unrelenting slaughter of cattle in an abattoir which the communists call "liquidation."

Presumably we are now being told to cover like a subject towards to await the approach of the slaughterman, be he world government or atom bomb. It is one of the greatest points of speakers like Dr. Chisholm that they do not come down to earth with practical facts. Your correspondent says "it might have been too much even for that enthusiastic audience."

How very true. End the curtain of the lurking monster's chamber door, aside, even that enthusiastic audience may have quailed to see their fate written among the millions of freedom lovers already liquidated. Many who have noted the laying low of Christian powers of France, Russia, Germany and Britain must experience alarm. The one bulwark left is North America, and it is heartening to see the way in which many citizens in the USA in particular, are beginning to appreciate their danger. Many political and trade union leaders, evangelists like Billy Graham, etc. are pulling aside the curtain which hides the enemies of the workers in the Christian Democracies.

Mr. John Beatty, M.A., Ph.D., in his famous book "Iron Curtain Over America," 5th Edition, P. 123, says "The United States appears to have the goal of destroying many of the sovereign rights of the member nations and of putting individualism in jeopardy everywhere." The Aegean states of the U.N. are so full that the removal of the fifth seven, the present organization might be too difficult. Perhaps the best move would be to adjourn the UN. Then like-minded nations on our side, including the Western Bloc, which a clean slate government would surely treat honorably, could work out an agreement to withdraw from the UN, and withdraw from the UN. Cleaned of body parts, behind

Everything, including three live roosters auctioned at Winfield Church affair

WINFIELD—A good crowd attended the auction sale held in the United Church basement on Thursday evening. This was sponsored by the church board to augment the funds for expenses of the church. The miscellaneous donations of goods were quickly disposed of by the capable auctioneer, Scotty Angus, of Kelowna.

There was a quantity of canned fruit, jam, pickles, sacks of potatoes, flour, clothing, curtains of eggs, books, flowers, and flower stands, tables, a boat, and last but not least, three live roosters.

The Women's Federation served refreshments and approximately $100 was realized.

The Women's Federation is sponsoring a hot supper in the basement on Friday, December 3, at 6:00 p.m.

A program will be provided by the CGIT, Tyros and Trail Rangers.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Walmage on the birth of a son in Kelowna General Hospital.

Mrs. Lee is spending a month's companions of the present organization, the new international organization might achieve work of great value on behalf of world peace.

And there, Mr. Editor, I propose to leave the matter, with the earnest exhortation to all who are interested in the future of their children to give careful study to both sides of this question. Yours truly,
C. H. NEALE.

Vernon trade board opposes diversion of B.C. water

VERNON—Vernon Board of Trade, at a meeting last week went unanimously on record as being opposed to any proposal to divert Canadian water for any purpose until the full needs of this country have been met, and then only on an equal basis.

The resolution as passed did not specifically mention any particular area but the preceding discussion centred entirely on the joint agreement between the Provincial government and American aluminum interests to dam Columbia River water at the Arrow Lakes near Castlegar.

Passage of the resolution came following submission of a report from a special committee set up recently by the board to report on the Arrow Lakes situation. President E. C. Brown, who presided at the meeting, had previously named a committee of three, M. J. Conroy, Ald. J. S. Monk and Andrew Johnston.

In presenting the report, Mr. Johnston said that securing of the facts of the situation was extremely difficult, with a welter of claims and counter claims between opponents and proponents. Mr. Johnston read an article from the most recent issue of the Financial Post, which was strongly critical of the B.C. government's attitude.

In this complicated situation, the committee had decided to recommend that a recent policy declaration of the B.C. Chamber of Commerce on use of water resources be incorporated in a resolution and presented to the meeting.

Will floodlight Vernon courthouse for yule season

VERNON—Vernon's courthouse at Mara and Barnard will be illuminated with floodlights in time for the Christmas season this year.

Mr. Shantz said a member of the electrical branch of the department of public works was in Vernon and had been requested to prepare an estimate for costs for various forms of floodlighting.

The Board of Trade had asked for the work to be done some weeks ago.

The extent of floodlight installations will depend entirely on cost, Mr. Shantz added.

H. D. Butterworth is re-elected chairman of Oyama BCFGA local OYAMA—The annual meeting of the Oyama Local of the BCFGA was held in the Oyama Memorial Hall with 27 members present. H. D. Butterworth was in the chair.

Following the adoption of the minutes of the last annual meeting and the financial statement, the placement officer's report was read.

While the labor situation in the Oyama district had been fairly satisfactory during the past season, it was felt that some growers had been lax in not filling their labor requirements with the placement officer soon enough.

The meeting recommended that the placement officer should be appointed earlier in the year to take care of the labor required for the late thinning. The secretary was instructed to write a letter to W. Karras, placement officer for Oyama, commending him for his efforts on their behalf.

CONVENTION DELEGATES
In his report, as president, Mr. Butterworth briefly outlined the activities of the local during the past year.

Delegates were sent to the last convention of the BCFGA and eight northern district council meetings were attended. Four members of this local participated in the organized tours of the B.C. Fruit Processors plants and the offices of the B.C. Tree Fruit Board.

The Oyama district was canvassed by the executive of the local, in connection with the BCTF contracts, which resulted in eighty of 110 growers signing their contracts.

Mr. Butterworth was returned as chairman, by acclamation, with T. Gorek being elected vice-chairman and A. Claridge as secretary-treasurer, both by acclamation.

The directors elected were R. Nyffeler and M. R. Stephens. Mr. Claridge gave a brief report on the hall insurance, stating that there were 63 policies in force in this district and that, though claims had been fairly high this year in other districts, the situation was very favorable.

PACKINGHOUSE EQUIPMENT
Resolutions to be presented at the next convention of the BCFGA were discussed at length. These included one asking for more extensive research in the matter of rodent control and another recommending that prunes be packed and shipped under one grade only. A third resolution recommended that inquiries be made as to ways and means of carrying out research in new packinghouse equipment, and methods, with a view of improving the pack and reducing the packing costs.

T. S. Towgood, BCTF governor from the Oyama district, gave a brief report on the year's activities and prospects and there arose considerable discussion regarding grades and packs.

K. V. Ellison, who recently returned from a six-month tour of England under a Nuffield Institute Scholarship, gave a brief talk on agriculture in England and Scotland.

SUGGEST NON-SEWERS
baby sit and turn money over to W.I.

OYAMA—A special meeting of the K.W.I. was held in the Oyama Memorial Hall on Friday, November 19, with President Mrs. Shaw-MacLaren in the chair. The program for the coming year was discussed and outlined. Several speakers will be asked to attend meetings during the year, covering a number of subjects. Final plans for the sale of home cooking and aprons, held Wednesday, were made.

As a means of raising money for the various projects and providing a means for those who do not sew to contribute to the work of the K.W.I., it was suggested that baby sitting could be arranged for the non-sewers, the returns from this being turned over to the Institute.

BEGINNERS' LUCK
OTTAWA—Three Ottawa men went deer hunting for the first time and returned with nearly 500 pounds of venison. Morris Guenther, Len Tierney and Frank Blocker each shot a deer in the Chabotte district.

Church group holds rally at Rutland

The Rutland Seventh-day Adventist church was crowded on Sunday with members from the Kelowna, Winfield, East Kelowna and Rutland churches.

The baptism, behind the rostrum, was framed with maroon curtains, while a beautiful mountain lake scene formed a background for the baptism conducted by the Irish evangelist Graham Joyce, and M. Nozaki, pastor for the Japanese.

Singing was directed by Floyd Sawyer, A.T.C.M., with Mrs. Alice Andrews at the piano. This was the third baptism held this year, bringing the total number of candidates to 56. Another baptism is planned for the near future.

Vernon Lions boost Ontario relief fund

This week, the club announced that its "Rainbow Revue" held to raise funds to aid the areas stricken by Hurricane Hazel last month, had grossed $674.01.

Expenses totalled $42.79. The club said that further contributions to the fund were still to come in.

City accountant Jim Griffin announced yesterday that contributions totalling $88 had been received at the City Hall. Recently, that Mayor announced that City

Oyama man elected president B.C. federation of agriculture

Mr. Ellison, whose Kelwood Farms apples and prize Herefords are equally famous, succeeded Alex Mercer, president for the past five years and one of the founders of the Federation movement in B.C.

Vice-president of the BCFGA is Art Svenson, well-known Delta potato grower and dairyman. Members of the BCFGA directorate are: tree fruits, John Kosky and V. E. Ellison; Vernon; small fruits, H. The kitchen was in the charge of Mrs. A. W. Gray, Mrs. F. H. Whipple and Mrs. R. Main, while Mrs. D. Rimmer and Mrs. R. M. Tucker acted as servers. The afternoon netted the W.A. about $150.
